PROPOSALS OKAYED IN LIGHT VOTE

Wave Roars and Rolls, Pellston Swamped 27-0

Face Roscommon There Tomorrow

The Green Wave roared and rolled last Friday afternoon and the visiting Pellston eleven must have thought they'd run into the Florida hurricane as the score swelled to 27 to 0.

Coach Willard Cornell, who fielded an eleven that was certainly not loaded with letter men, should be proud of the well-balanced team that scored in both of the first and second quarters and again twice in the final canto.

The team for the first game showed fine form and were in excellent physical shape.

In the first quarter, John Krage powered his way through the center of the Pellston line and then really rolled for 42 yards to draw first blood. The point after was made via the air, on a throw from Jerry Smock to Chuck Feldhauser.

Grayling's air attack really clicked during the game while quarterback Feldhauser did an excellent job in calling signals as he wisely mixed running plays with the aerial attack.

In the second quarter, Bob Rasmussen raced 20 yards around end to bring the count to 13 to 0. Smock then bullied his way off tackle to add the second point after touchdown to make the score 14 to 0. As the half ended, Grayling looked its worst as the Pellston eleven rolled up 3 first downs in a row. All the yardage was gained in the center of the field and before the dawn could develop into a scoring threat, the half ended.

The third quarter proved to be a seesaw battle with Grayling gaining yardage on each exchange of kicks. Pellston, who also used a T-formation, lost yards badly on a wide lateral play which clicked for a gain once but which End Clifton Papendick broke up for them from then on.

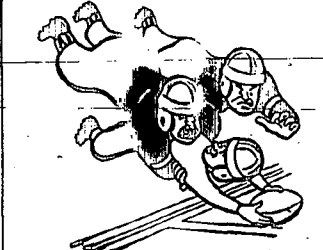

In the fourth quarter, Grayling on a fine display of mixed offense drove down to the Pellston goal line only to lose 5 hard-earned yards on an offside penalty. Smock then calmly flipped a pass to End Dick Miller who caught the aerial in the end zone for the third score. Smock again drove off tackle to add the 21st point.

Pellston desperately fighting back took to the air which proved disastrous for them as Smock snatched a Pellston pass from the air and on a fine exhibition of broken field centering, and good downfield blocking, scampered 80 yards to score standing up. The attempt for the point after failed, leaving the final score 27 to 0.

Roscommon, who is opening its season tomorrow is reputedly gunning for the Green Tide and is boasting a fine set of seat backs to give their running game a real zip. Grayling, on the other hand, certainly has fast backs and some fine blockers in the backfield as well as power backs. The Wave front wall played fine ball against Pellston and time and again smashed the northern's attack before it was really underway.

As a result of games in the Northern C Conference, Harbor Springs and Charlevoix look like the big hurdles in the scramble due to their easy victories. Charlevoix downed an improved Gaylord eleven by a 27 to 0 score while Harbor Springs trampled Boyne City 24 to 6. Mancelona dropped East Jordan 6 to 0 on the final play of the game, a long pass.

Large Crowd Attends Teachers Reception

Around 125 teachers and parents were present at the High School Friday evening to attend the teachers reception. P. T. A. president Richard Lovely introduced City Manager George Granger who acted as toastmaster. The teachers were introduced after which Mrs. June Gross presented a number of her pupils in a musical program. Little Susan Bidvia sang "In Nature's Garden" by Spaulding. Joanne Andrews played "Falling Waters" by Truax. Jean Lovely sang "A Little Pink Rose" by Bond and "When I Grow Too Old to Dream" by Bradley. Stephan played "Forget-Me-Not" and "One, Two, Three, Four" by Smith, on the Hawaiian guitar. Phyllis Ziebell played "Moon Blossoms" by King. Joyce Hoel sang "Just a Wee-bit for You" by Bond and "An Irish Lullaby" by Shannon. Gloria Moore and Mrs. Gross sang two duets "Starlight and Sunshine" and "Goodnight Sweetheart" with the group joining in on the chorus of the last piece. Mrs. Gross accompanied all vocals at the piano. The program was very much enjoyed by all.

A few minutes of visiting followed after which coffee, tea and cake were served from a tea table centered with a bouquet of fall flowers. Mrs. Norval Stephan and Mrs. Richard Lovely presided at the refreshment table.

Mrs. Carl Richardson was program chairman and was assisted by Ernest Larson and Mrs. Van Smith. Willard Cornell, Earl Gierke, Frank Bond and Oscar Goske made up the decoration committee. Mrs. George Granger, Mrs. Joseph Stripe and Mrs. Richard Lovely served on the reception committee and Mrs. Norval Stephan was chairman of the refreshment committee assisted by Mrs. Leroy Akers, Mrs. Harry Souder and Mrs. Herbert Stephan. Mrs. Earl Mathewson, Mrs. J. L. Martin, Mrs. Foryst Barber, Mrs. Clare Madsen, Mrs. Fred Lamm, Mrs. Lacey Stephan, Mrs. Howard Bunker and Mrs. Richard Thompson assisted with the serving.

Planes Received By Air Units

Michigan National Guard air units stationed at Wayne County Airport have now received practically all of their planes and other equipment, according to a report received by the Adjutant General from Major Walter E. Nicol, air officer for the U. S. Property and Disbursing Office.

Twenty A-26 light bombers have been received by the 107th Bomb Squadron. This is the same type of twin-engine bomber as the "Bombers" which recently established a new round-the-world flight record. In addition to the A-26's, the air units have received eight additional cargo and advance training type aircraft, including C-47's, AT-6's, AT-11's and L-5's.

The 200 officers and men in the Guard air units at Romulus are flying their planes every week in routine training and cross-country flights. The planes require a minimum of 40,000 gallons of gasoline per month. Considerable difficulty is currently being experienced in obtaining sufficient gasoline to meet training requirements.

Last week Michigan's first National Guard fighter squadron was activated at Kellogg Field. This unit will shortly be equipped with 25 P-51 pursuit ships, as well as a number of additional training planes. Vacancies still exist for officers and enlisted men in both of the air units stationed at Wayne County Airport and at Kellogg Field, Battle Creek.

Modern Hiawathas Soon Enter Forests To Seek Bucks, Does

Where the redskin once stole silently through the woods in search of game, Michigan's rapidly growing tribe of modern-day bow hunters will soon take over.

On October 1 a state-wide bow and arrow season opens for the taking of bucks only. In Allegan County deer of either sex may be taken as in the past few years.

On October 11 the number of bowmen seeking their deer will be swelled as a new law recently enacted goes into effect. This will permit the taking of one deer of either sex in 17 of Michigan's counties.

A record number of more than 9,000 bow-and-arrow hunters is expected to try its luck this fall, according to Arnold O. Haugen, professor of wildlife management at Michigan State College and president of the Michigan Archers Association.

Haugen, a veteran bow-and-arrow hunter himself—he was the first in Michigan to get his deer last year—has some rather timely tips for this quickly growing band of bowmen. Spend much more time standing and sitting in concealing cover, than in walking around in his main tip on stalking the deer. Let your deer come to within 30 yards of you before shooting, he adds, and do not chase your deer as soon as you've hit it.

As for equipment, Haugen suggests that the hunter get a good supply of real sharp arrows and a bow with a pull of at least 40 pounds. And the equipment isn't going to give you best results unless you practice shooting a little daily.

Above all, the wildlife specialist says, have a good time and continue always to be a good sportsman.

Weather Halts League Games

Both ends of the North Central Michigan Baseball League semifinals were halted last Sunday by inclement weather. Grayling will face the Roscommon Shamrocks at McNeil Field at Roscommon at 2:30 this coming Sunday afternoon. Fairview and Rose City will tangle in the other half on the semifinals with the victors meeting on Sunday, October 5 for the league crown.

Name Chamber Candidates

At the regular September meeting of the Grayling Chamber of Commerce held at the Court House last Wednesday evening a list of 23 candidates were named for the annual election to be held this week for next year's Chamber directors.

The eight present directors were named to the list along with 15 others. Last year's directors who were listed again are Wesley Kumpulula, Fred Welch, Jr., Leslie Hunter, John H. Peterson, Wesley LaGrow, Walter Dudwicz, Rolla Failing and Robert Strong. The new men added to the candidate list are U. Harley Russell, William Tufts, William Joseph, Floyd Davis, Herbert McDonnell, Harold Long, Frank Sharpe, James McClung, Thomas Stancil, Charles Piper, Ralph Morse, Robert Hayes, Joseph Stipes, John Selesky, Jerome Kessler. Among the latter list are several newcomers to Grayling including, Charles Piper, secretary of the Bear Archery Company, and Ralph Morse, owner of the Skyline Ski Club.

On a motion by Director Fred Welch and supported by Director Wesley LaGrow, the annual secretary salary was increased to $250. It was decided to call an open meeting on October 1 to meet with the Conservation Department to discuss plans for the coming winter sports season. A motion was also made to contact the Bear Archery Company regarding promotion of interest in the bow and arrow deer season. Also a suggestion was made to appoint a 3 man study committee to work on plans for the Second Annual Michigan Canoe Championship. It is to function throughout the year planning the race and working out any changes from this year's event.

Several members of the Grayling group attended a final canoe race meeting in Mio on last Thursday evening where it was revealed that the total expenditures for the race were $1,451.07 while total receipts were $1,430 leaving a deficit of $21.07. It, however, has been announced that the Bay City members of the Canoe Marathon committee would underwrite the expenditure of $180 which was incurred when $10 consolation prizes were given to all contestants who finished the run to Oscoda. Although these prizes were not authorized by the committee a hurriedly called meeting at Oscoda rightly decided that each contestant finishing the 240 mile run should be rewarded in some manner. This payment by Bay City leaves over $150 in the committee fund to begin promotion of next year's marathon.

Call Winter Sports Meet

Sept. 22, 1947.

To: Citizens of Grayling and Crawford County.

Subject: Grayling Winter Sports.

It is hard to realize what Grayling would be like in Winter without the colorful and profitable winter sports activities. We have become accustomed to the arrival of snow buses and trains and the ski-laden autos to the point where it is taken for granted. Picture the town without all this, and then you can appreciate the anxiety caused in the Chamber of Commerce when we were informed by the Conservation Department that the operation of the Grayling Winter Recreation Area may be impossible this winter due to insufficient funds. For weeks the problem has been discussed in civic organizations and by individuals on the street, but as yet no answer has been found. Can Grayling operate the park again? Should we forget Winter Sports? What is the solution?

To find the answer to these questions a public meeting will be held Wednesday, October 1, 1947, at 7:30 in the Court Room of the Crawford County Court House. Everyone is urged to attend and to bring along their ideas on this situation. Together, we may be able to arrive at a solution, so again, you are urged to keep this date open.

Very truly yours,
John H. Peterson,
Secretary-Treasurer,
Chamber of Commerce.

Leo Koerber is working in Detroit, being employed by W. E. Dubard.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents following the ceremony. ### Hold Services For Howard Trudgeon

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon from the Estes Leadley Funeral Home at Lansing for Howard Trudgeon, who succumbed at Grayling Mercy Hospital Sunday evening. His death resulted from injuries suffered in an automobile crash last Saturday evening at the intersection of M-72 and M-77 west of Grayling. Interment was in Evergreen Cemetery, Lansing.

Mr. Trudgeon was born in Ishpeming, Michigan on March 24, 1903, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Trudgeon. He had resided in Lansing for some time where he was employed by the Reo Motor Company. He moved to Grayling this spring and during the past summer had been working for the Curtis Candy Company as an area distributor.

He was a member of the Methodist Church of Lansing and was a Thirty-second Degree Mason. He is survived by a daughter, Miss Barbara of Lansing, four brothers Roy of Grayling, William, Clyde and Albert of Lansing, three sisters, Miss Beatrice Trudgeon and Mrs. Ronald Perkins of Lansing and Mrs. Walter Bath of National Mine, Michigan.

The fatal crash occurred at about 9 o'clock Saturday evening, according to Sheriff William Golinick, who investigated. Mr. Trudgeon was returning from a trip to various Lake Margaret's shops that handled his goods. According to witnesses questioned by the investigating officers, the speed of the car was estimated at 65 miles per hour. Witnesses who were both behind Mr. Trudgeon's car and also approaching the intersection from the west on M-72, said that an apparent quick braking of the car and an attempted turn too late threw the vehicle out of control. The car rolled over three times, they added. Mr. Trudgeon was thrown from the car. He suffered a fractured skull, concussions, numerous other fractures and was seriously injured internally.

He never regained consciousness after the crash. Members of the family present in Grayling on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Perkins and Mr. Perkins' father and mother of Vanderbilt, Albert Trudgeon and Mrs. Trudgeon and daughter, Barbara. Mr. and Mrs. Bath stopped in Grayling Monday evening en route to the funeral in Lansing. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Trudgeon were also present for the rites.

Only a Third of Eligible Voters Ballot on Proposals

4 Propositions Receive Way Over Majority

With but 211 citizens taking action on their prerogative to cast a ballot in a special election held here on Monday, four propositions to issue bonds to the extent of $82,000 to be used in repairing and improving city streets, extending water and sewer lines and to erect a municipal garage, received an approximate four-fifths majority vote.

All four of the proposals required at least a three-fifths majority to carry but each one carried way over the needed majority. City officials estimated that 600 persons of Grayling were eligible to vote in the election. The ballot was reserved to taxpayers and property owners, and their respective lawful husbands or wives, only. Only about one-third of the estimated total turned out. The unseasonable cold, and at times snowy weather, was blamed to a large extent on the poor total vote.

Of the 211 ballots, two were laid aside as spoiled or marked ballots as some voter checked the yes or no squares instead of marking them with a cross as required by law. The vote on proposition 1 was, Yes, 169; No, 40; Proposition 2: Yes, 158; No, 47; Proposition 3: Yes, 159; No, 47; Proposition 4: Yes, 162; No, 41.

Following is the wording of each proposal as it was presented on the ballot:

Proposition 1 — Proposal to repair and improve city streets generally and to join with the State Highway Department in widening and improving highway US-27 (Cedar Street) within the limits of the City of Grayling. Shall the City of Grayling repair and improve city streets, including joining with the Highway Department of the State of Michigan in widening and improving highway US-27 (Cedar Street) within the limits of said city, at an estimated cost thereof of $28,000.00, and in payment thereof issue general obligation bonds of said city not in excess of $29,000.00, said bonds to be payable from general revenues of said city, and to be issued in form and manner provided by law.

Proposition 2 — Proposal to extend the sanitary sewer system of the City of Grayling to service those parts thereof now in urgent need of the same. Shall the City of Grayling extend its sanitary sewer system so as to service those parts of said city not now served and which are in urgent need of the same, at an estimated cost thereof of $23,600.00, and in payment thereof issue general obligation bonds of said city not in excess of $23,600.00, said bonds to be payable from general revenues of said city, and to be issued in form and manner provided by law.

Proposition 3 — Proposal to extend the water distribution system of the City of Grayling to service those parts of said city now in urgent need of the same. Shall the City of Grayling extend its water distribution system so as to service those parts of said city not now served and which are in urgent need of the same, at an estimated cost thereof of $21,400.00, and in payment thereof issue general obligation bonds of said city not in excess of $21,400.00, said bonds to be payable from general revenues of said city, and to be issued in form and manner provided by law.

Proposition 4 — Proposal to acquire a municipal garage for the storage and protection of motor vehicles and equipment owned by the City of Grayling. Shall the City of Grayling acquire a municipal garage for storage and protection of motor vehicles and equipment owned by the city at an estimated cost of $8,000.00, and in payment thereof issue general obligation bonds of said city not in excess of $8,000.00, said bonds to be payable from general revenues of said city, and to be issued in form and manner provided by law.

Work under proposal number one will begin immediately as a large stockpile of gravel has already been acquired by the city. Graveling of some city streets will be finished before extremely cold weather sets in. No work is expected to be started on the widening of US-27 by the Michigan State Highway Department before next spring. Nothing will be accomplished of the extension of either water or sewer lines until spring next year, it was said by City Manager George Granger. Building of the municipal garage, however, is expected to get underway next week, Manager Granger said. A contract for the construction of the garage has already been let to Melvin Marshall, Grayling contractor, he added.

To Hold 2nd Navy Exams

The Navy announced recently that the second nation-wide competitive examination for its College Training program has been scheduled for December 13, 1947, and will be open to high school seniors or graduates within the age requirements. Successful candidates will be given a four-year college education at government expense and will be commissioned as officers of the Navy or Marine Corps upon graduation.

The program is open to male citizens of the United States between the ages of 17 and 21, and quotas have been assigned to each state and territory on the basis of its high school population. Those who are successful in passing the aptitude test will be interviewed and given physical examinations; then, if found in all respects qualified, their names will be submitted to state and territorial Selection Committees composed of prominent citizens and naval officers. The Navy expects to enter about 2,500 students into the program commencing with the fall term of college.

The students selected by these competitive examinations will be assigned to the 52nd Naval Reserve Officers' Training Corps units which are located in various universities and colleges in the United States. If accepted by the college, they will be appointed Midshipmen, U.S.N.R. and will have their tuition, books and normal fees paid for by the government. In addition they will receive pay at the rate of $50.00 a month for the four-year period. Upon graduation they may be commissioned as officers in the Regular Navy or Marine Corps and required to serve on active duty for two years. At the end of this time they may apply for retention in the Regular Navy or Marine Corps, or transfer to the Reserve and return to civilian life.

Applications are available at high schools, colleges, Offices of Naval Officer Procurement and Navy Recruiting Stations. Wesley Kumpulula, principal of Grayling High School, who is acting as the Navy's local civilian

New Bank Building Nearly Ready For Occupancy

The practically all-new building that will house the Grayling State Savings Bank is nearing completion and the first day's business will be done in the new home on October 6, it was announced by the bank president, Walter F. Truettner.

Progress on the interior work has been very rapid during the past few weeks and the lightly-stained wood fixtures have been going up fast as the interior painting was being done. All that remains to be accomplished will be easily be finished so that the bank may move and be ready for business on October 6, Mr. Truettner said.

Interest in the new building has been apparent during its remodeling and new construction period by the number of visitors on the scene who were viewing the work as it went along.

The first day in their new structure will be considered an open house with many visitors from financial circles throughout the state expected to attend to inspect the new quarters and facilities. Residents of Crawford County and Grayling are extended an invitation also to drop in and look over the new premises that day by President Truettner.

John Bruun, who had served the Grayling State Savings Bank as its president and manager for over 15 years, will remain in his building in which the bank has been located since its inception. He will carry on with his other businesses which because of their increasing banking business made his resignation from the bank imperative. The small quarters were inadequate for the increasing affairs of the bank and Mr. Bruun's other interests, so the alteration plans of the building which will now house Grayling's financial institution were put into motion.

Man Held To Announce Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. George Skingley entertained thirty relatives and friends at a potluck dinner on Sunday.

A happy event of the occasion was the announcement of the engagement of Miss Beverly Thomas Salline and their son, Robert. The happy couple were presented with a lovely double wedding bell cake which they cut and served to the guests.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Larson and Ronny, and Mr. and Mrs. John Akers spent the week end in Detroit, where they attended the double-header ball game on Saturday. They returned home by way of Frankenthuth, where they enjoyed a chicken dinner.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

I wonder if we ever stop to think what a nice town we live in?

This past six weeks I have had time to think it over.

We have lived here two and one-half years and are glad to call Grayling "home."

The first winter, I had an opportunity to meet many of the young people through Sunday school and Girl Scouts. I have never met a finer group of young people anywhere.

By the way, I think we as mothers shouldn't be afraid to let our girl scout leaders know how much we appreciate how much they are doing for our girls because it takes a lot of time, and patience and hard work.

Last winter our little boy was ill and then we really got to know how the people respond when their friends and neighbors are in trouble. It was heart warming.

This summer I have been ill and people have been so kind. They have called, phoned, sent food for Tom and the children, sent cards and done so many nice things to help, that I just wanted to let people know that I think Grayling isn't just a summer resort or a winter playground only, it is a community to be proud of, because the people here are kind.

Mrs. Ruth Roberts

Lives vs. Minutes

Why, ask those who are shocked by our annual traffic death rate, do motorists weave in and out of traffic lanes? Why do they blast their horns when another auto fails to get away fast when the stop light changes to green? Why do drivers stopping at intersections ease their vehicles over the crosswalks, thus blocking pedestrian lanes?

The answer is no less shameful than it is simple. The motorist just wants to get some place in a hurry. He is addled by the potentialities of speed in the powerful machine he drives, he is intoxicated with the idea that this modern age demands haste at all times.

The idea of hustle and bustle to get somewhere in a hurry reminds us of a story we read a short time ago. Whether true or not, we can't say, but it did make us stop and ponder on this American way of life—this constant rush and hurry.

It seems a farmer and his young son mounted a two-wheeled farm wagon loaded with produce, one morning headed for the city on a selling-trip. After a few minutes on the road, the pair found another farmer whose wagon and horse were mired in the mud at the side of the road. The father immediately reined up and jumped down from the wagon to aid his neighbor in distress. The son was almost beside himself at the delay and constantly urged his father to make haste in order that they might continue on into the city.

A short ways further, the pair noticed a neighboring farmer's fence down and that his cattle were escaping. The father again stopped and aided his fellow farmer by herding back the cows and mending the fence, while the son was almost in a fury because of the delay. The father on returning to the wagon spoke to his son, "Hurry never helps anyone instead constant haste might well take your life." At this the son snorted laughter.

As they again commenced their journey which took them over a small range of hills ahead, the sound of an explosion as rumbling as a thunderclap came to their ears. On reaching the summit of the road pass over the hills, both men gasped at the vast view of destruction and desolation spread out before them. They could now see their destination—Hiroshima. The son turned to the father and meekly said, "Father, I now see what you mean."

Advancements In Traffic Safety Devices Of Little Avail If Drivers Fail To Co-operate

EARL O. SHREVE

President, Chamber of Commerce of the United States

Why do so many of us as motorists weave in and out of heavy traffic and dash through intersections at the last split second before the light changes, when comparative tests show that in ten miles of such driving we may perhaps save four minutes over the man who drives sanely and legally? Why do we blow our horns raucously at the driver ahead who fails to get under way the instant the "Go" signal comes on, or at the gentle old lady who becomes confused trying to cross the street?

Why, in fact, do we show so little concern over the welfare of human beings on foot that we stop squarely on the crosswalk, despite a broad white line for which as taxpayers we have helped pay, or barge around a corner and put it up to anybody in our path to jump or else? Why do we park double in a narrow, crowded street, a few hours or minutes after we have mentally belabored the inconsiderate individual who blocked us off by parking double in a narrow, crowded street?

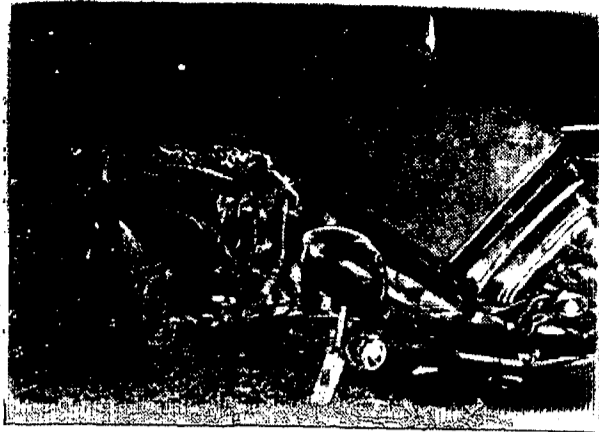

It must be because this great Twentieth Century boom, the motor vehicle, has come upon us faster than we could adapt ourselves to it. Because it has given us a sense of power that has somewhat intoxicated us. Because, with the thrill of going fifty miles while our grandfathers were going ten, we still want to go farther and faster. Because we did at the start foresee the coming avalanche of motor vehicles and insist from the beginning that each of us must qualify fully before being given the privilege—never a right—to operate a powerful and potentially dangerous machine on our streets and highways.

In the fifty years since the first horseless carriage appeared, engineers have revolutionized highway construction. The multiple-lane divided highway is a far cry from the old dirt road. The highly signalized street intersection has been developed from scratch in the last half of those fifty years, as has virtually all of the mechanics of traffic control. Many further advances in both highway construction and traffic control are inevitable. Likewise, the automobile and motor truck bear little resemblance to the early models. Our traffic laws are much more scientific, more fair and more nearly uniform. Our enforcement techniques are better. We have organized educational activities.

But our accidents continue—far fewer, unquestionably, than if none of these improvements had taken place—but distressingly and intolerably numerous, nevertheless. Why? Because we have to overcome and reverse a 50-year way of thinking. Because the many and varied efforts that have been made to instill in every driver a keen understanding of his part in making the streets and highways safe have evidently not made any appreciable impression on a large segment of the driving public. In short, far too many drivers lack the proper attitude as to their part in the picture.

We must assume that many who drive motor vehicles have never heard of the President's Highway Safety Conference, or of the standards the Conference has promoting. We must assume that too many who have heard of these standards, who have passed examinations without difficulty and qualified for driver licenses, are woefully lacking in the sense of responsibility that should go with the license. We have to admit that more than a few who would be shocked by a suggestion that we add to the hazards of the highway are willing to take chances that invite accidents.

Our biggest task, therefore, is to reach the individual driver. We can reduce the likelihood of accidents by giving him as nearly as possible a foolproof highway. We can make it easier for him to drive safely by giving him some traffic laws and much more enforcement.

Speeding through an intersection stop sign, one of these drivers collided with another car. The force of the crash entangled the two cars and they skidded together across the intersection and slammed into a stone wall. Both drivers and a passenger were killed, two were seriously injured. National Conservation Bureau reports that disregard of traffic control devices ranks third as a cause of death in motor vehicle accidents.

must still rely to a large extent on an intensive campaign of gradual education. The Action Program of the President's Conference embodies such a campaign, and with persistent co-operation on the part of all interested in carrying out the Program, marked improvement must inevitably come.

To check the illegal killing of hen pheasants this fall when all hens that can be spared are needed to rebuild the pheasant population, the conservation department is relying on "good citizenship" among hunters, as well as a larger law enforcement staff and extra publicity for offenders.

We All Need Fun!

Nobody in Our Town is exactly lazy (even though Pete Swanson's missus claims he sleeps till seven A.M.). But the hardest working man of all is Doc Hollister—on call, morning, noon and night.

Funny thing, Doc's favorite prescription to his patients is: You ought to have fun. The pace of modern living, even on the farm, demands some relaxation.

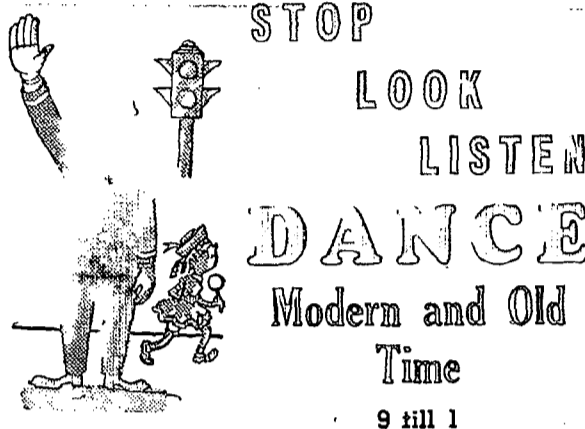

And as Doc says—fun is a personal thing. For the missus it may mean a movie or a good book; for Dad, a well-earned refreshing glass of beer; and for the kids, parcheesi or the radio. Doesn't mean everybody has to like the same thing—so long as they relax, have fun, together, in the home.

Doc doesn't have much time himself. After a hard day, he'll relax before the fire with a glass of beer—and wait for the phone to ring again. And from where I sit, Doc deserves each well-earned minute of relaxation.

LUCILLE WALL, the golden-haired actress who has played the title role in "Portia Faces Life" since its inception in 1940, differs from many radio actresses—Mercedes McCambridge, for instance—in preferring radio to the theater. "Radio has made citizens out of actors," she said the other day. "We used to live in a trunk; now we can have homes of our own." She knew it was in Jane Cowl's road company for a while, and had several seasons on Broadway before she took to radio. Married to Louis Hector, she goes to the theater often, but loathes night clubs. Her one great dread—that she'll sneeze while on the air.

Alan Hale ("Cheyenne," Warner Bros., as his latest), thinks the movie industry is much improved. Back in 1939, when he broke in, he had to do outside work to get by on what he earned by writing, directing and starring in one picture a week for Lubin. For the past several years he's lived very well indeed on what he makes by appearing in three or four films a year.

Paul Whiteman is set as master of ceremonies on the first full hour, coast-to-coast network recorded music program in radio history. In other words, "The King of Jazz" who grew into "The Dean of Modern American Music" is going to be a disk jockey. His 25 years as a conductor have given him wonderful material for the stories he'll tuck in between the records.

Hollywood's costliest location trip is over, and Director Ray Nazarro is home after spending $310,408,268 filming scenes for two months in inflation-torn Shanghai, for Columbia's "Assigned to Treasury," starring Dick Powell and Signe Hasso. Those astronomical figures resulted from the rates of exchange; at one time one American dollar was worth $6,600 to $17,500.

Howard Washington, once a red-cap in New York's Pennsylvania station, plays the part of a baggage-toter in "Wallflower," and does all right between pictures too; he operates the shoe shine parlor at the Warner studio.

Jan Miner, "Ann Williams" on the CBS "Crime Photographer," thought she wasn't pretty enough to be an actress, so she studied stage design; one role in summer stock changed her mind. And her first audition in New York landed her at CBS.

Billy Williams, radio singer (he was featured with Sammy Kaye's band), night club entertainer and recording artist, makes his screen debut in Columbia's "Smoky River Serenade." He's on leave from CBS where he has his own program, "A Bouquet for You."

good habitat by flooding with small dams. The first act on the books, in 1859, was a seasonal restrictions, prohibiting killing of teal and mallards between February 1 and August 15.

First restrictions on guns, in 1865, prohibited the small cannon known as punt guns that market hunters used. Not until 1918 was the hunter limited to one gun no larger than 10 gauge. In 1930 his gun could hold no more than six shells; now the limit is three.

Shooting from power boats and sail boats was outlawed in 1897; sink boxes and batteries were outlawed here in 1927; live decoys and baiting were outlawed in 1935.

Daily shooting hours were first defined in 1915. The noon hour seasoning opening prevailed from 1931 through 1934.

Hunters in the days of the "duck depression" of the early '30's would have thought the current regulations liberal, Miller says. In 1934 there was no shooting on Mondays and Tuesdays; in 1936 wild-fowling had shooting hours of 8 A. M. to 5 P. Second-hand car dealer: "This car is sound in every part." Prospective Buyer: "So I hear."

The way to have your car run without a sound is to have it lubricated here regularly. Our service is thorough, speedy, and economical. For the sake of longer, more pleasurable driving, bring your car in today.

Problem Drinkers

More than 3,000,000 people in the United States drink alcoholic beverages to excess and 760,000 are labeled "problem drinkers" because they cannot control their appetite for alcohol and frequently are burdens to themselves, their families and society.

What is being done to help the problem drinkers? Some states and communities have established medical programs to help these individuals. On the national level the Research Council on Problems of Alcohol, an associated society of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, is seeking to coordinate the work being done on state and community levels.

The Research Council also plans to establish a series of centers in leading medical schools and their affiliated hospitals throughout the country. These centers will study causes, cures and prevention of uncontrolled drinking so that the problem drinker can be restored to a useful position in society.

Doctors of medicine and psychiatrists working with problem drinkers, believe that these individuals should be treated as sufferers from a disease rather than as willful criminals—that they should be cared for in hospitals rather than punished in jails—and that curing them depends on sound medical knowledge rather than on pleas for reform.

The Research Council's plan is based on this theory and was set up with the cooperation of the American Medical Association, the Michigan State Medical Society and other groups which are supported by your doctor of medicine.

Tomatoes Are Easy Way To Can Vitamin C

Whether you can your tomatoes this year with a hot or cold pack is up to you, but you will want to can a supply of the only common vegetable that doesn't require a pressure canner.

You'll be canning up a lot of vitamin C and good flavor with either a raw or hot pack reports Roberta Hershey, Michigan State College foods and nutrition specialist. Of course with a hot pack you can put more tomatoes in each jar. Either pack is easy to do.

Use only perfect ripe tomatoes. To loosen skins, dip into boiling water for about half a minute, then dip in cold water. Cut out stem ends and peel tomatoes.

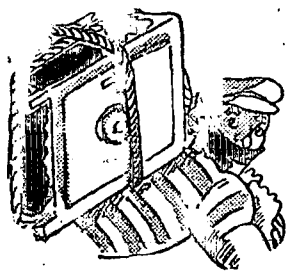

For canning tomatoes with the hot pack method, quarter the peeled tomatoes. Bring them to a boil, stirring often. Pack hot in hot glass jars to one-half inch from the top. Add one-half teaspoon salt to pints, or one teaspoon to quarts. Adjust jar lids. Process in a boiling-water bath for ten minutes—either pints or quarts. Remove jars and complete seals.

Raw-packed tomatoes will probably hold color and shape better than hot packed ones. Leave them whole, or cut in halves or quarters if you wish. Pack to one-half inch from the top of the jars, pressing gently to fill spaces. Adjust jar lids.

Put the jars in the canner in water that is hot but not boiling. Heat to boiling and process pint jars 35 minutes. Process quarts for 45 minutes. Remove jars from the canner and complete seals.

SOLDIER COME HOME

By Betty E. Watson

Dad—don't try to talk. You'll have to save all your energy to get well again." He smoothed his white hair back from his forehead. "The doctor says you're going to be all right, Dad."

Kit and Johnny Worry About J. D.

"You said... some things sometimes get in our way—and after we get around them, we find ourselves better men for the experience," Johnny smiled as he remembered his father's very words. "That's right, son. And you'll find that this is all a part of the—" rest a while and be back real soon. Honest!" she assured him. "They started for the door. "Kit," he called. "Kit, come here a minute. Don't worry, Johnny—I'm just fixing up a date with her."

CHAPTER XVI

"So long... son," he called after him and even raised his hand a little from his side to wave goodbye. "Kit, you meant what you said... didn't you, honey?" he asked her again. "Of course I did," J. D. saw the earnestness in her face. "You know I might not get back to the office for a while," he said slowly.

They got in the car and drove down to the main part of town to the restaurant where Johnny and J. D. had eaten for the past twenty years. Everyone knew what had happened by this time and Johnny did not realize until then just how many friends his father possessed.

Sympathy for Mrs. Murphy

"At the morgue—what's left of him!" he announced casually. "What do you mean, McKinney? Who killed him?" "Nobody! The good-for-nothing bum fell in the same trap that got his old man! Good riddance twice, I'd say!" He bit hard on his cigar as if to show his disgust.

dropped all her plans to be with Johnny until he was more reconciled to his father's death. Basil and his father were hunting in Pennsylvania, although she did not mention this to Johnny, thinking it might upset him to know they would return the last of the coming week in time for the date they had set for the wedding.

ness district of Grayling" boast Clayt and Bud McDonnell and their partner Lowell Whiting of the Grayling Air Service — even on their letterheads.
